STORY

Riki is in the abyss of despair after the loss of his parents. Then Kyosuke, the leader of the boys who call themselves "crime avenger little busters", offers a helping hand. Riki leads merrymaking days with the four boys and before long Riki forgets the pain and the loneliness in his mind. A few years later, the friendship continues, but they are reaching an age when they have to think about the future. Riki starts wanting to do something with his friends again which can only be done now. As if responding to his wish, Kyosuke makes an announcement out of the blue. "We are going to make a baseball team". The name is going to be... Little Busters. At the height of precious adolescence, a story of Riki and Little Busters starts!
